Nitram
Justin Kurzel, Australia, 2021
Trailer

Caleb Landry Jones (Get Out) won the Best Actor award at Cannes last year for his performance as "Nitram", a socially awkward, intellectually disabled young man living with his parents (Judy Davis and Anthony LaPaglia) in Australia. In a surprise turn of events, Nitram meets Helen, an eccentric, much older and very wealthy woman who takes a shine to him. The latest from the exciting Australian director Justin Kurzel is patient, discreet, compassionate and disturbing.

"Kurzel has gone about his task with blazing moral integrity, seeking to explain the apparently inexplicable in human terms." Tim Robey, Daily Telegraph

On-Screen Advertising

On-screen advertising is a high-impact format where audiences can see your message illuminated on our two cinema screens. We show films seven days a week at the VIFF Centre to an average annual attendance of 84,000 cinema-goers outside of the festival dates.

Your ad will run on-screen in the VIFF Centre's Vancity Theatre and Studio Theatre as part of our pre-film show. *
